

NORTHPARK CENTER ANNOUNCES SIX NEW STORE OPENINGS

DALLAS, Texas – NorthPark Center is pleased to announce the upcoming openings of six new retailers. These stores include: David Yurman, Porsche Design, H Hilfiger, Diesel, Billy Reid and Apple Computer.

David Yurman - Already an accomplished sculptor and Jeweler, David Yurman established the company and the brand in 1980. Yurman's non-traditional sterling silver and gemstone pieces were a revolution in the fine jewelry market and quickly stepped into the spotlight in fashion circles across the country. Not only are Yurman's treasures unique, but they are also affordable, which gives the company access to people who purchase jewelry for themselves and want pieces they can wear everyday, a previously untapped audience in the fine jewelry industry. This David Yurman store will be the company's first store in Dallas and the second store in Texas. Opening February 2006 near Neiman Marcus.

Porsche Design - Porsche Design products, such as watches, pens, optical wear, golf equipment and luggage, are designed for men in their work life, home life, leisure life and sporting life. The "pure doctrine" of German design infused in all of our products is melded with the sensuality and emotion which is found in all Porsche automobiles. Porsche Design represents luxury and performance in its purest form. The Porsche Design store at NorthPark Center will be the company's first store in Texas.
